Questions

- What is Development Economics about?
- Can you name some developing countries?
- Have you been to any of them except China?
- Why do you want to take development economics?

1.1 How the Other Half Live

When one is poor, she has no say in public, she feels inferior. She has no food, so there is famine in her house; no clothing, and no progress in her family.

1. 她的

a. 自卑的

—A poor woman from Uganda

For a poor person everything is terrible—illness, humiliation, shame. We are cripples; we are afraid of everything; we depend on everyone. No one needs us. We are like garbage that everyone wants to get rid of.

2. 耻辱

3. 贫穷

—A blind woman from Tiraspol, Moldova

Life in the area is so precarious that the youth and every able person have to migrate to the towns or join the army at the war front in order to escape the hazards of hunger escalating over here.

4. 不稳定性

5. 移民

6. 不安

7. 逃亡

1.1 How the Other Half Live

We have to line up for hours before it is our turn to draw water.

—Mbwadzulu Village (Mangochi), Malawi

[Poverty is] . . . low salaries and lack of jobs. And it's also not having medicine, food, and clothes.

--Discussion group, Brazil

Don't ask me what poverty is because you have met it outside my house. Look at the house and count the number of holes. Look at the utensils and the clothes I am wearing. Look at everything and write what you see. What you see is poverty.

—Poor man in Kenya

- A universal theme reflected in these six quotes is that poverty is more than lack of income – it is inherently multidimensional, as is economic development.

1.2 Economics and Development Studies

– Nature of Development Economics

放
手

- Traditional economics is concerned primarily with the efficient, least-cost allocation of scarce production resources and with the optimal growth of these resources over time so as to produce an ever-expanding range of goods and services.
- Political economy studies the social and institutional processes through which certain groups of economics and elites influences the allocation of scarce production resources now and in the future.
- Development economics has an even greater scope.

1.2 Economics and Development Studies

– Nature of Development Economics (Con't)

- Development economics also deal with the economic, social, political, and institutional mechanisms, necessary to bring about rapid and large scale improvements in levels of living for the peoples in the least developed countries, where most commodity^{小商品} and resource markets are highly imperfect, consumers and producers have limited information, major structural changes are taking place, the potential for multiple equilibria rather a single equilibrium is more common, and disequilibrium situations often prevail.
- 马工程定义：发展经济学以发展中国家的经济发展问题为研究对象。
 - 发展中国家经济相对于发达国家落后或者不发达的原因和障碍问题。
 - 发展中国家如何加快经济发展步伐来追赶当今发达国家。

1.2 Economics and Development Studies

– The Important Role of Values in Development Economics

- Value premises, in particular for development economics, are an inherent component of both economic analysis and economic policy.

1.2 Economics and Development Studies

- Economies as Social Systems: The Need to Go Beyond Simple Economics
- Social Systems 相互关系
 - Interdependent relationships between economic and non-economic factors
- Success or failure of development policy
 - Importance of taking account of institutional and structural variables along with more traditional economic variables 制度性、结构性 问题

1.3 What Do We Mean by Development?

- Traditional Economic Measures

- Gross National Income (GNI)
- Income per capita 人均
- Utility ^{效用} of the income?

- The New Economic View of Development

- Leads to improvement in wellbeing, more broadly understood

- Amartya Sen's "Capability" 可行能力 Approach

- Functionings 功能 as an achievement
- Capabilities as freedoms enjoyed in terms of functionings

Launch of the UN Sustainable Development Goals

As the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) era comes to a conclusion with the end of the year, 2016 ushers in the official launch of the bold and transformative 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development adopted by world leaders last September at the United Nations.

The new Agenda calls on countries to begin efforts to achieve 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) over the next 15 years.
